Hungarian Stamps For Russian Writer

On June 18, Hungary released set of three commems for the 15th anniversary of the death of Russian author of note, Alexei Maximovitch Pashkov, known to the world under his pseudonym of Maxim Gorky.

According to Bela Bauer of New York City, the denomina-tions are to be 60 filler, 1 and 2 Forints, while the design, com-mon to the three will be a por-trait of the writer, Imperfs will also be produced.

Born at what was then Nizhni Novgorod, Gorky became a double orphan in early childhood. When nine he was apprenticed to a shoemaker, from which his restless nature took him to ikon maker. cooks helper, baker, porter, fruit vender and lawyer's clerk.

On a Volga River steamer, Gorky acquired his passion for a literary knowledge from the cook, and at the age of twelve set out for the University of Kazan in a vain attempt to get a free education.

Disappointed and disgusted he pursued his desultory pursuits finally attempting suicide at 19. Later he joined a company of outcasts and vagabonds and went tramping through the south of Russia. Twice he was arrested for revolutionary sympathies. In 1906 he travelled through Europe and to the United States seeking funds for the use of Russian "freedom". In America the intrusion of a moral issue of a personal nature—the legal status of the woman whom Gorky considered his wife—ruined his mission and caused a revulsion of feeling against him which culminated in social ostracism.

His death occurred in 1936.

NICE PLACE FOR A MOUNTAIN VACATION. This is the design chosen for the 100th Anniversary of the Settlement of Nevada, an event which is said to have occurred 100 years ago, this year. A good bit of rugged "back in the mountains" scenery provides an excellent opportunity for this stamp design to be an outstanding one. In any event, it appears to be a dandy place for a vacation. There will be an initial printing of 110 million stamps in panes of fifty, in a green color.

Postal Note Stamps On Sale At Philatelic Agency After July 1

The Post Office Department has accepted the suggestion coming from numerous quarters to make it possible for stamp collectors to purchase mint copies of the Postal Note stamps. These will now be placed on sale for a limited time through the Philatelic Agency in Washington, D. C. Postal Note Service was discontinued for all time just a number of weeks ago in preparation for the Department's announced intention of converting its money order section to a new type of negotiable paper. On June 30, the current type Money Order will be done away with, while the new system becomes effective on July 1.

Directions by which collectors can obtain mint postal note stamps were given in the following bulletin from the Post Office Department:

"The Postmaster General, Jesse M. Donaldson, announced that postal note stamps returned to the Department for credit by postmasters following the discontinuance of postal notes March 31, 1951, would be placed on sale in the Philatelic Agency, Post Office Department, at face in uncanceled condition.

"Heretofore, these stamps were clude return postage and registration. It should be addressed Philatelic Agency, Post Office Popartment, Washington 25, D. C. The request for these stamps should not include any other items."

First Day At Genoa, Nevada; Design Shows Cabin In Mountains

The Post Office Department finally made official what everyone seemed to know unofficially anyhow. That was the first day of sale and the first day city, in this instance village, of the commemorative stamp to mark the 100th anniversary of the settlement of Nevada. The first day date is to be July 14, with the first day sale at the little town of Genoa, Nevada, a community with less than 200 permanent residents. Genoa is said to be near the place where the first permanent settlement was made in the state by Mormons. For the event, the Department will produce a stamp, the design of which might well be the most attractive commemorative produced in recent times.

The bulletin from the Post Office Department describing the new stamp, reads as follows:

"Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson announced the description of the 3-cent stamp to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Settlement of Nevada, which will be first placed on sale at Genoa, Nevada, on July 14, 1951.

"The stamp will be 0.84 by 1.44

sale at Genoa, Nevada, on July 14, 1951.

"The stamp will be 0.84 by 1.44 inches in dimensions, arranged horizontally with a single line border, printed by the rotary process, electric-eye perforated, and issued in sheets of 50. The color of the stamp will be green. An initial printing order of 110,000,000 Nevada c o m m e m o r a t i v e stamps has been authorized.

"The stamp has for its central design a log cabin, with a mountain range in the background, and a pioneer scene typical of the period of the first permanent white settlement in Nevada. In the upper left portion of the stamp arranged in four lines of dark Gothic, appears the wording 'Nevada First Settlement Centennial 1851-1951'. Across the bottom of the stamp is the inscription '3c United States Postage' in white face Roman.

The Nevada stamp was designed by Charles R, Chickering. The vignette was engraved by Charles A, Brooks and the outline frame, lettering and numerals by Edward H. Helmuth.

Swedes Issue More Regulars

Two additional denominations in the "Three Crowns" type for eary postage have been issued by Sweden on June 1 reports Thorsten Ingeloff of Karlstad, Sweden, The Scott Catalog lists this as type A56.

Both are intended to meet the the rates of sundry inland mail

Both are intended to meet the the rates of sundry inland mail fees. An 85 ore brown pays the inland double weight letter plus the registration fee, while a 170 ore red fills the bill for parcel post weighing between 3 and 5kg.

Each appears in coil form only, perforated 12½ on unwatermarked paper. The 850 comes in rolls of 100 only while the 1700 can be purchased in coils of 100 and 500.

Issued on June 6 was a light brown 15 ore in the new King Gustaf VI Adolf design, This de-nomination is in the nature of an afterthought to meet a rate not covered in the original plan-ning of the set.

cellations,

And after June 1, Swedes have had to do some extra licking and sticking on their postal stationery. The existing items are undervalued according to the new rates effective, and the Post Office Department Printery is snowed under with other work, mostly stamps, making it impossible for the time to produce correctly valued stationery.

Present letter cards of 15 ore.

Present letter cards of 15 ore, Present letter cards of 15 ore, the inland rate, and 20 ore, the foreign rate, will have to have an additional 5 ore stamp, bringing the prepaid postage to 20 and 25 ore respectively. The same goes for the double reply cards.

New letter cards for both rates are expected before the end of June.

The 2c Postal Card That Didn't Work

by Rendell Rhoades

It will be a sad state of affairs when a penny will not buy a postal card and we hear that the government is considering a 2c-card. It is almost an established pattern that the Post Office Department shows a deficit for I am told that the last time the Department was on the black side of the ledger was during the McKinley administra-tion. Increased mail from increased departments has always meant a burden to the post office which seems to have little success in extracting revenue from its official patrons. Higher postal rates were suggested and put into effect in 1918-19 and history is repeating itself in 1951

Here is the postal card story of 1918-1920. First, we present figures on the number of postal cards sold during that period:

1817-1,112,337,769	cards	$11,123,377,60
1918- 707,111,300	(2c-rate effective)	14,142,226.00
1919-456,924,490	(2c rate)	9,138,489.80
1920- 986,156,087	(1c-rate restored April 1)	9,861,560,87
1921-1,081,206,636		10,812,066.36

It is obvious from the above that the government lost money on 2c card, yet, in addition to that there was the cost of making two sets of dies and plates. About 18 months later, the Department had further expense of supplying nearly 100 offices with revaluing dies for cancelling machines and postal clerks were paid to run some 850,000,000 2c red Jefferson cards through their cancelling machines to make 1c cards to comply with the restored rate. That is the story of the 2c 'red-faced' Jefferson card!

There is still another important point. Smaller post offices over the country are classified on the basis of their receipts and the number of people they employ depends upon the same factor. In 1919 the postal card business dropped to one-third and post offices, as Blanchester, dropped to fourth class in 1920. Folks out along the RFD and the merchants in town felt that they just could not get 2c worth of writing on a postal card.

Being a collector, I suppose I should not complain about a new card for after all the lc green card is now 37 years old. Perhaps it is time to change the scenery just on general principles. There are very few clear-cut dies and impressions of cards these days and Jefferson is getting to be a shabby old man. Yes, 37 years of service should entitle him to retirement in any branch of the government.

Another important feature of the sale is the mint airmail colthe sale is the mint airmail col-lection complete except for a dozen stamps. Strangely enough, the missing stamps are not hard to obtain. The entire collection, originally in 20 volumes, has been broken down into small lots, sets and singles to afford everyone an opportunity to obtain the stamps of his choice.

Not to be overlooked is the odd cover issued in 1928 when Franklin D. Roosevelt was Governor of the State of New York and a member of the American Philatelic Society. The cover suggests FDR as a stamp collector president four years before he reached the goal. The cover, interestingly enough, is autographed by FDR. This section is a bulwark of pioneer flights, military overprints, plate number blocks including Zepps, and other singles and sets rarely seen at auction sales.

Popular British Colonies, France and Colonies, Germany, her States and Colonies take up a substantial part of the sale. In addition to singles and sets, many collections are being offered. Not to be overlooked is the odd

WHITE ACE BRITISH EMPIRE QUADRILLE BLANK PAGES.

In Brilliant Color

Many philatelists collect stamps by subjects; such as, Art, Music, Religion, Science, Fish, Duck Stamps, etc. This is commonly called "Topical Collecting."

There are others who collect stamps by countries. Still others do "plating" of various issues—that is, reconstructing different parts of the sheets like: plates, arrows, corners, etc.

If you collect stamps of the British Empire, the WHITE ACE BRITISH EMPIRE QUADRILLE BLANK PAGES open up a new field of mounting pleasure for you. Here is a page on which you can mount your British Empire stamps in a great number of different ways, yet come out with a professional looking job as well as an object of externa heauty. treme beauty.

The border and tableau, in two colors and many tones, depict the universal significance of stamps namely, communications.

The unobtrusive quadrille has been made as fains as possible so that a finished page doesn't look like a first grader's ruled note book, yet visible enough to enable the collectors to systematically mound their collections.

Sheets are of heavy white cardboard stock, 8½ x 11, and punched to fit a standard three ring binder with famous WHITE ACE quality throughout,

There's a WHITE ACE Album Page for most every mounting problem. A complete price list is available at your dealer or write the publishers.

Always Keep Looking Ahead

Some people seem to live just from day to day with never a thought of tomorrow, till tomorrow becomes today. Then they are still in the same rut. The wise persons are those who look ahead, far ahead of tomorrow.

It is necessary to plan that way to get the most out of life and what we get out of life is only what we take out of life. There is much of pleasure and happiness for all of us if we will but plan ahead and take advantage of the opportunities that present themselves as we go along day by sent themselves as we go along day by

For the stamp collector, there is for the stamp collector, there is a plenty in these coming summer months that can interest and attract him. The conventions of the leading societies are always splendid places for a vacation and the cities in which they are to be held are attractive to any vacationist. Plan now to visit one of these and enjoy yourself

If it is Precancels you like go to Pittsburgh and attend the PSS Convention. If your vacation date is in mid-August go to Cincinnati and attend the S.P.A. Convention. If you are a collector of Air Mail stamps and covers, an enthusiast for stamps of British North America, or a member of the A.P.S. then Toronto in plan to go. Lay your plans now and you ill have an enjoyable trip.

will have an enjoyable trip. Another thing that stamp collectors might plan ahead on and save themselves a little money is subscriptions to their favorite stamp papers. Advancing costs in paper, postage, labor etc. is having its effect on all of the publications. Profits are shrinking and altho most of them would prefer to hold the line with their present subscription price, it may become necessary that they raise their rates before the year is out.

You can protect yourself when your renewal comes up by making it for two years or more instead of just one year and thus be on the safe side. It pays to look and plan ahead.

New Parcel Post Rates Announced

The latest issue of the U. S. Postal Bulletin contains a new table of Parcel Post Rates to become effective as of October 1st. This has been expected for some time. A forerunner to this is a recent bill in Congress wherein it is provided that about 500,000 post office employees will receive an annual pay raise of approximately $360.00 per person. If our figures are correct that means $180,000,000.00 per year to add to the Post Office Deficit.

If all of the leeches in cost that are charged up to the Post Office Department were charged where they belong perhaps that much could be cut from the deficit, but so long as the Post Office Department remains a political football we can expect such management. Just who should be blamed for all this is uncertain, certainly it is not the Postmaster General altho some of it lays in his lan. Perhaps Congress, more than any other agency is the most to lap. Perhaps Congress, more than any other agency is the most to blame. Congress makes the laws and passes the bills and certainly could remedy the situation if it chose to do so, but the boys will probably never bite the hand that feeds them in so many different

Now as to the new parcel post rates. We find by a study of the new table of rates that the advance cost is going to be about 25%. Some advances are higher but this is an approximate average. At present it costs 12c for a pound package in the first zone. The new rate will be 17c. It costs 19c for a pound package in the 8th zone. The new rate will be 27c. These advances are about 50%. Other advances throughout the list vary a trifle from 25% but it will run that much or more for the average. run that much or more for the average.

When we add advanced costs of raw material to this advance in postage rates we can see that things are really getting up in price. Paper for instance is the big problem in our field of printed supplies for stamp collectors and you can bet that paper mills are going to extract every last penny they can take from the public. Paper production today is at a peak, running over 100% of normal production, yet prices are soaring every day.

It is difficult to do business under such conditions for any duction, yet prices are soaring every day.

It is difficult to do business under such conditions for any priced list issued today may be put out of order tomorrow by an advance in price of some of the raw material that is the base of the product. If we were asked to advise a collector what to do we could only give him the same advice we would follow ourselves and that is to stock up on album pages and such things he anticipates needing at once. That gives you the advantage of present day prices plus advantage of present day postage rates for delivery.

Some car that such advice is wrong that to encourage buying is

Some say that such advice is wrong, that to encourage buying is wrong. We note advice in the daily papers that people should buy only what they have to have. That would be fine advice if everyone followed it but few do. We all know that most people try to provide for the future by taking advantage of present prices rather than waiting to pay the higher prices that are certain to come.

than waiting to pay the higher prices that are certain to come.

Another way to look at it that if we buy heavily now we may get to the point where we can not afford to buy so much in the future or where the public will get so tied up with weekly and monthly payments on bought goods that they can ill afford to buy more. That situation usually comes after the public has been fed up on dollar down and dollar a week payments on merchandise. When that saturation point arrives they have to quit buying and as a result prices will drop. It always works that way and then the big boys call it over production. It has come before and will come again and until it does come we can expect ever advancing prices.

Perhaps the recent price wars in New York and now spreading to other parts of the courtry are the forerunner of what is coming. Let us hope so for the ever increasing costs are playing havoc with our economy and the sooner we can get over the hump the better

Joinville Brazil's Commem

By Manoel F. da Motta

On March 9, Brazil issued a rather plain looking 60 centavos red brown commemorative to mark the 100th anniversary of the Founding of the city of Joinville in the state of Santa Catarina. The average collector will probably mount the stamp in his album without a second look, but the one with a streak of curiosity and a rudimentary understanding of heraldic symbols will take a good long look at the coat of arms of Joinville in the design and then reach for his reference books to check what his eyes have revealed to him. It doesn't seem true.

For there before his eyes is indicated a union of French and Brazilian interests, that the Swiss and Norwegians were also to be counted in as well as the Germans and Portuguese. The latter nationality is understandable for Brazil was built by Portuguese colonists, while Portuguese is the predominant language of the country today. But what about the others?

Originally, when the city was founded March 9, 1851, it bore the name of Dona Francisca. On that date there disembarked from the sailing ship "Colon" 117 German and Swiss immigrants. They had left Hamburg, Germany some months previously, had stopped at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil's capital en route, and picked up a group or Norwegians in transit, and then sailed to the south.

The land, now known as the State of Santa Catarina, belonged to Princess Francisca, daughter of Pedro I (Brazil was then an empire) and Princess Leopoldina, sister of Pedro H, Brazil's great emperor.

On May 1, 1843, Princess Francisca had married Don Francisco Fernando Felipe Luiz Marie de Orleans, Prince of Joinville, and of French nationality. He gave the city its name of Joinville probably as a gesture to tie this place of the new world in with his first home in the old.

Today, Joinville is a very modern and active community with a population of 30,000, occupying an area of 368 sq. km., and 3500 homes. It is an important industrial and agricultural center with most of the industry being devoted to the spinning and weaving business.

Ceylon National Association for the Prevention Of Tuberculosis

The Ceylon National Association for the Prevention of Tuber-culosis is but 2½ years old. The association was inaugurated in June 1948 at a public meeting presided over by His Excellency, Sir Henry Monck-Mason Moore, the Governor-General.

Chief aims of the association are to carry out necessary pub-licity and propaganda for educating the people; to render relief to patients and their families; to assist in the rehabilitation of patients whose disease is arrested; teents whose disease is arrested; to collect funds for carrying out work not at present undertaken by the Ministry of Health and to supplement what it is doing; to work for the establishment of chest clinics, sanatoria and other institutions in various centers.

By means of talks on tubercu-losis, illustrated with moving pic-tures, given in various colleges and other institutions and at large and other institutions and at large public gatherings, much beneficial work has already been accomplished by the association. After a thorough inspection of tuberculosis cases in the various hospitals, which were greatly overcrowded and unable to render beneficial service to this type of patient, the association was instrumental in obtaining a 50-bed ward for tubercular children which will in some measure alleviate the present overcrowded conditions in other hospitals. conditions in other hospitals.

At the present time architects have plans well underway for a sanatorium and preventorium which will further alleviate the crowded conditions and materially expedite the recovery of many victims of tuberculosis, as well as arrest the disease in its primary stages in many others.

While the institutions for treating this disease in Colombo are entirely inadequate, conditions in the large provincial towns and other crowded centers are either extremely meager or entirely non-existant. Therefore the associa-tion hopes, eventually, to form branches in some of these sec-tions and render even more efficient service in combating tuber-

PICTURESQUE PHILIPPINE SLOGAN CANCELLATIONS. Nea ricturesque philippine Slogan Cancellations. Near the close of 1950, the cancellations shown above on cover were used in the Manila post office. As can be seen, they are a bit more attractive than those usually produced in the United States, having a better layout of the subject matter plus some simple art work. At the top, postmarked January 1, 1951, the slogan shows a hand depositing a coin in a small bank with the wording, "SAVE and DEPOSIT/POSTAL SAVINGS BANK/NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK JAN. 1 - 7, 1951." In the center, postmarked December 28, 1950 with a reproduction of the Scales of Justice is the wording, "40th College Anniversary/U.P. LAW ALUMNI/HOMECOMING/Jan. 12, 13, 14, 1951." Lastly, postmarked December 14, 1950, and bearing the in-1951." The History Of Zamboanga, Philippine Islands

by J. F. McGee

The announcement of a set of stamps of the Philippine "coat-ofarms" series for the City of Zamboanga brings the place into the philatelic spotlight, a faraway spot today. Zamboanga is located on the extreme southwestern tip of the Island of Mindanao, and is the capital of the province of the same name. The natives of Mindanao and the adjoining Sulu group were born pirates. Fleets of their large proas, propelled by lattice bamboo sails, raided the northern Philippine Islands, even entering Manila Bay. They looted coastal towns, and the men, women and children they captured were later sold as slaves.

The Spanish Zamboanga Stamp The basic stamp was for either Postage or Telegraph, and the "C" and the "T" stand for "Correos" (postage) and "Tele-grafos" (telegraph).

In 1635 the Spanish occupied In 1635 the Spanish occupied Zamboanga and fortified it in an attempt to check Moro piracy. However, the Moro proas could run away from the larger Spanish sailing ships, and it was not until 1860 when Spain sent a large number of small, swift gunboats to the islands that the Spanish could cope with the piracy.

A Long Holy War

I think an explanation of the Moros is in order here. Two or three hundred years before Ma-gellan discovered the Philippines, Arab missionaries had arrived in the southern islands and converted the natives to the Mos-

And to the Spaniards of those early days it was their Christian duty to exterminate infidels like duty to exterminate infidels like the Moros. On the other hand the Moros were more fanatical in their hatred of Christians.

It might read like fiction today, but when a Spaniard in a garrisoned Moro town ventured outside alone from the barrack's compound, he placed his life in the hands of the Moros, Indeed conditions were such that there was a standing Spanish order, which was enforced, that required all Moro wen to squat on the ground with hands free from barongs and krises on the approach of a Spaniard and to remain in distance away.

I believe this order was still in effect in Zamzoanga until the last Spaniard departed in 1899.

American Army Pacified Moros

The Spanish never had the troops, means nor the desire to conquer the wild independent Moro tribes in the interior of Mindanao. It remained for the Americal Conference of the American Conference of the Conferen ican army to establish law, order and religious tolerance on the island, and the assignment was anything but a picnic.

Philippine Zamboanga Stamp the top panel of the coat of arms be seen a Mohammedan crescent and a Christian cross. Their inclusion in the design signifies religious tolerance.

Later it was aided by an American trained and officered consta-bulary force composed of Moro tribesmen. Zamboanga was then the principal American base of operations. It was in the cam-paign which covered most of the 1900's that General John Pershing earned his military reputation.

Zamboanga Overprints

Spain formally ceded the Philippines to the U. S. in February, 1899. After the surrender of Manila, Spanish troops and civic officials on the other islands remained at their duties. They were now directed to proceed to Zamboanga to await transportation to Spain.

sonable doubt on any part of the plans.

In the main, postmasters and other officials of the POD are cooperative on such matters, but when it comes to a question of being a good sport and going along with a misuse of the mails and the postal facilities, don't ask or expect them to do this.

Their jobs require them to con-

you, while are the your ways of the full details.

In that way, cover collectors and societies will avoid giving themselves and the hobby a black eye with the higher ups. You might not always agree with the decisions and dispositions of the POD "Brass", but they are in the saddle and you need their help.

Twice in the past several months I have tried to answer some of the questions readers had about mounting their stamps. First discussed were the printed and blank album pages, then, the means to write up a collection. Since then several other questions have come up for which an opinion is asked. It should be remembered that what is written applies to collections of singles and not blocks for the most part, for blocks need some special attention to make an attractive page. And you can apply the information to foreign stamps as well as your United States. One thing that seems to bother many is whether their stamps have to be mounted with their have to be mounted with their denominations in consecutive or-der. Unless they are all of the same color like the 1912-13 Par-cel Post stamps, I would say not. In fact, it is one of those added little touches to have the stamps next to, and above and below each other to harmonize in color, and if that is not entirely possible, not to clash. Sometimes too, as in the case of the National Parks Issue of 1934 where you have vertical and horizontal stamps, you can hardly place the stamps in consecutive order and have attractive page.

How many stamps should be placed on a page is another query. That is hard to say definitely since in some instances one or two stamps on a page are thus made prominent because of their rarity, or the amount of illustration and write-up they need, where in another case up to two where in another case up to two dozen stamps can be mounted without making a crowded looking presentation.

A general rule is that there should be approximately as much "white" space, as space covered by stamps and write-up.

How "clever" should a person be in placing his stamps on a page, is asked frequently. Clever in this present instance meaning about hinging the stamps to form various standard and fancy geometrical shapes

I believe that the basic rule in practically all human endeavor is, "to keep it simple as possible". That goes for art, mechanics, li-terature, personal relations, stamp collecting and thousands of other things.

First of all stick to the straight First of all, stick to the straight line for each row of your stamps. Arcs, circles, and fancy shapes just don't sit well with the human eye. Use the triangle, upright and inverted, the square, the rectangle, and the straight row, vertical or horizontal in grouping the stamps on the page.

Write-up is a subject which has as many twists as a braided rope, but there are certain basic

. The same goes for telling perforation or the watermark of the stamp, unless such is neces of the stamp, timess such is necessary to identify it as an out of the ordinary item, or to differentiate it from one of similar design and

3. Don't write line after line
3. Don't write line after line Reason for citing this instance is to encourage stamp clubs and other groups planning special postal observance of an event to consult their local postmasters where in any case there is a reasonable doubt on any part of the in an appearance before your stamp club as the speaker for the evening.

NOT MANY OF THESE AROUND. At least that is the opinion of the owner of the above cover, Robert F. Molitor, 1906 E. 105th St., Apt. A, Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Molitor states that he has watched the offerings in various auction catalogs, and now and again as the opportunity offered inspected the cover stocks of various dealers and has never seen another. On the stamp, which is a three cent green Banknote issue, is a bright purple "W", sidewise. To the left of the stamp is the very unusual shaped cancellation reading, "BRIGHT—WOOD, IND_/SEPT. 30 1878". Possibly the brightly colored "W" is the Brightwood identification cancellation. Mr. Molitor would be pleased to hear from collectors who have information about this item,

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER Editor-Poet

Born in Haverhill, Mass. 1807—died in 1892. He was born of frugal Quaker parents and therefore he was largely self-educated in his earlier youth, even as was President Herbert Hoover. For some years he wrote a trade-pa-per, after which he became edi-tor of the Haverhill Gazette, and later of the New England Review.

Finally getting around to his life work, he published his first work—"Legends of New England"—in 1831, meanwhile preparing his famous—"Moll Pitcher"—for publication in the following year. Being a Northerner and a Quaker, he was understandably an ardent supporter of the antislayery movement, in the inter-

Whittier wrote many popular ballads which included: "Barbara Frietchie"—"Skipper Ireson's Ride"—"The Barefoot Boy." His best known work is probably—"Snowbound"—written in 1866, which was followed by—"Maude Muller"—in 1867. "At Sundown"—was written in 1892, the year of his death.

Due to his family background and his known economy, he was sometimes referred to as the "Quaker Poet."
